

Beth Dillaha for Winter Park City Commission, Seat 2

A Strong Voice for Winter Park

RESTORING TRUST AND CONFIDENCE IN CITY GOVERNMENT

Individuals elected to our City Commission are delegated a serious responsibility by the voters, and must gain and maintain the trust of those voters. When differences arise, such officials must have the ability to subordinate their personal philosophies to those valued by the citizens, who they represent. I can, and will, do that.

As your representative, I will ensure that we never forget our history and that we close the gates to those who would rob us of our cherished identity. Financial growth and increasing rewards for our business community are not mutually exclusive to maintaining the quaint nature of our City. I am confident that our connection to the past can, and will, be the formula to guide our City into the new century.

In the absence of state or City reform, I've implemented my own concept of campaign finance reform. "One voter, one contribution." Corporations do not have the right to vote, nor do LLC's. They should consequently not have the right to financially influence an election or public policy in direct proportion to the size of their checkbooks. Accordingly, I will accept no corporate or LLC contributions... only individual contributions. In addition, I am placing a limit on contributions of $250 per person as opposed to $500.

Our laws, rules, and codes must be applied fairly and equally across the board. I believe we must have a Code of Ethics which pre-empts "misunderstandings" and "miscommunications," and prohibits conflicts of interest.
